How the Police Enforced Its Observance Yesterday.

NUMEROUS ARRESTS.

The Cases Promptly Brought to Court

The Cases Promptly Brought to Court and Disposed Of.

NO POLICE ESPIONAGE.

It was generally expected that another raid on a large scale would be made on the saloon keepera, yesterday, and that the station houses would be filled, as on the previous Sunday, with persons charged with violation of the Excise law. There was however, a change of tactics on the part of the police authorities, and, though some arreits were made, there was no excitement attending them. Instead of trying to entrap unsospecting barkeepers into a violation of the Scie law.

There was however, a change of tactics on the part of the police authorities, and, though some arreits were made, there was no excitement attending them. Instead of trying to entrap unsospecting barkeepers into a violation of the law, due notice were immediately laken before a police magistrate and their cases disposed of.

AT THE TOMMS.

There was but one case of violation of the Excise law when Justice Murya assumed his seast on the bench at the Tombs Court yesterday morning. the lager and paid money for it. Ball was given in $100 to answer.

Mr. George Hillen, keeper of the well known beer saloon called the Concorain, at No. 256 Sixth avenue, was also arrested for seiling beer. Although the question of exposure for sale was somewhat desective Justice Smith announced that there was probable cause to hold, and permitted Mr. Hillen to remain in Court, inteed of sending him down stairs to the cells, until the arrival of a friend, who promptly furnished bail in $100 for Mr. Hillen's appearance.

Mr. William Becker, of No. 147 West Thirty-second street, was arrested for seiling beer over his bar. The case was clearly proven and he was held in $100 to answer. Mr. Ertog, a German merchant, who was in court, although wholly unacquainted with Mr. Becker, offered himself as bail and gave as security an iron front building in Church street, valued at $65,000 When offering himself as surety Mr. Ertog said, "I will be bond for any gentleman who is arrested for selling a glass of beer." Justice Smith then adjourned the Court until three o'clock in the afternoon.

On the opening of court at tures o'clock Justice Smith heard and disposed of nine case.

Henry Stace, proprietor of the saloon No. 271 Seventh avenue, was charged by Officer Rielly, of the Twenty-nints precent, with having his place open and his liquor exposed for sale. He was bailed in $100 to answer.

OFFENBACH AND BEER. The Excise law was partially enforced at Gilmore's Gardon last night. Barkeepers were arrested by de-tectives, with whom they had taken lager, but still the sale of the enlivening beverage was not stopped. There were about 4,000 well meaning and fashionably dressed people within the limits of the Hippodrome, and a large majority of them occupied tables and refreshed themselves from time to time with wine and beer. Several of the bartenders were taken to was stale and not drawn from a keg, and that the man lo whom he gave it was the watchman of the building. Michael Boran, the bartender in the Brandreth House, corner of Canal street and Broadway, was arrested by Omcer Haipin, of the Fifth precinct, to whom he sold a glass of beer. He was held in $100 bail.

Officer Moran, of the Fifth precinct, charged Louis Bowhing, of the Eric House, No. 181 West street, which having his bar open. The officer forced his way into having his bar open. cupied by ladies and gentiemen, among whom were several prominent citizens, bestde Police Commissioner Erhardt, Excise Commissioner Owen Murphy, Justice Morgan and Inspector McDermott. The large force of waiters was kept particularly busy conveying drinks to customers and refiling empty glasses, and everything was going "as merry as a marriage bell" until the first intermission, when one of the barkcepers was accosted by a heavily mustached, loud-collared individual and requested "to put on his coat," Being already in anticipation of some laterruption in his business, the dispenser of good cheer compiled with this demand, and, donning his hat and coat, came outside the bar. "I want to talk to you omistde," said the man who made the unu-usu demand, "but let us take a drink belore we go." Accordingly two beers were ordered and drank, and the barkceper quietly arrested by him of the mustache, who was a detective. The prisoner was taken to the Twenty-muth precinct, thence to Justice Smith, where Mr. Klaussen gave security for his appearance when required and returned calluly to his work at the garden. Six men were thus treated without the knowledge of the audience, for whom the clink of hundreds of glasses continued pleasantly until the conclusion of the entertainment. Outside of the barkcepers mentioned heady was disturbed, and the manager said that he was prepared to replace every arrested man by a fresh attendant.

WOOLLEN MILL BURNED.

A fire was discovered about one o'clock, Sunday morning, in the woollen mill of the New Brunswick Carpet Mills, in which nearly 400 persons are em-ployed. There was a large lot of wool in bales recently stored on the fourth story of the mill, and it was among these the fire originated from spontaneous combustion, as it is believed. The company owning the mills are the successors of the New Brunswick Carpet Company, which was brought to bank-rupley through the conduct of its president, Robert Woodworth, of New York, whose trial for conspiracy to rob the State Bank of New Brunswick of $1,000,000 excited so much interest in New Jersey at the time. The new company's goods are a specialty in the country, for which Arnold & Constable are the sole agents. During the lire the citizens turned out as masse, and many of them risked their lives to save as much as possible of the property, while the firemen bravely struggled with the flames. This action on the part of the citizens resulted in saving a large quantity of wool. The building is of brick, about $6 by 100 lest, with a slate roof, which caused the flames to be confined until the firemen had obtained control of the ure.

All the wool which remained in the building and much of the roof and upper stories are consumed. Damages, $10,000. these the fire originated from spontaneous combustion

THE BELL HOMICIDE.

Richard Bell, aged twenty-six, who was stabled in the breast by John Keenau during an altercation at No. 262 William street on Wednesday last, died at the New 262 William street on Wednesday last, died at the New York Hospital yesterday. The circumstances of the tragedy were published at the time, and are briefly as follows:—On the night of the 34th inst. Holl quarrelied with his wife, and kicked her in the head, but not severely. She then ran from the room, and shortly afterward Bell went out and drank considerable beer. Returning to the room he locked himself in and went to bed in a few minutes his wife returned, accompanied by James Keenan, who lived on the first floor of the same house, and, finding the door locked, broke it open. Hell jumped from the bed and caught hold of Keenan. A desperate struggle ensued, during which Keenan stabbed left in the left breast with a knife. The police soon arrived sand streated Keenan and sent the wounded man to the New York flospital.

The tollowing day Coroner Woltman took the anti-mortem statement of Bell and committed Keenan to the Tombs, where he now lies.

An inquest will be held this week.

A POLICEMAN ASSAULTED.

Last night Officer Devlin, of the Tenth Precinct, noticed several men standing on the corner of Bayard and Mr. Donohue said his bar was closed, when ranked if he could not be served on one of the arant tables. Mr. Donohue did so, when Ryder and him. Mr. Donohue farnished $100 ball for lim. Mr. Donohue farnished $100 ball for lim. Schneider and his son, William Schneider, are arrested by Officer Hogan, of the Twenty-creamed, for selling liquor at their saloon, No. Chrystic streets, apparently in a state of intoxication.

THE SEVENTH'S NEW ARMORY.

GROUND TO BE BROKEN EARLY IN JULY-CIR-CULAR OF THE SUBSCRIPTION COMMITTEE. Committee feel warranted in breaking ground without further delay. The work will, therefore, begin as soon further delay. The work will, therefore, begin as soon as the numerous preliminary arrangements are completed, which, it is expected, will be curly in July.

The site selected on the block bounded by Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh streets and Fourth and Lexington avenues is looked upon by members as one well calculated to suit their purposes, and eminently superior to their present cramped and dangerous quarters at Tompkins Market. In the latter place but two companies at the most can be drilled at the same time with saicty, and the drill room being on the third floor makes it inexpedient, if not impossible, to go through with the more violent evolutions. In the new armory the main regimental crill room will be situated on the ground floor, and so arranged that it can be divide into two company drill rooms or thrown into one large ground floor, and so airanged that it can be divide into two company drill rooms or thrown into one large battation room as occasion may require. Connected with the drill room and facing on Fourth avenue will be a building containing the rooms for the ten companies and the quarters for the field, staff and non-commissioned staff, besides apartments for the floard of Officers, Veteran Association, band and drum corps, janitor and armorer. There will also be apartments for a gymasum, reading room and library, and several rooms for aquad drills. The building, which will have a frontage of 400 feet and a depth of 200 feet, will be three stories high and built of brick, with granite trimmings. The total cost is set down at $320,000.

The time for laying the corner stone has not yet been decided upon, but the event will not take place until after the regiment returns from Philadelphia and gets settled down to proxy life again. The occasion will be one of general interest, and emborate preparations will be made to render it memorable. It is not unlikely that the Freemasons will play a prominent part in the ceremony, as large numbers of the members belong to that Order. The corner stone will be laid by some high official, probably the Governor of the State.

The following circular, just issued by the Subscription Committee, will be found of interest:—

OBITUARY.

G. M. D. BLOSS, EDITOR. A telegram from Cincinnati under date of the 25th instant reports the sudden death of Mr. C. M. D. Bloss, one of the editors of the Cincinnati Enquirer, a gentio-man who has been widely known throughout the United States, during many years past, for his talent and ability. Mr. Bloss was killed instantly yesterday, about half-past seven in the evening, while walking on the trapk of the Little Mami Railroad, near Branch Hill station, where he resided. The engineer blew his whistle, but Mr. Bloss, apparently not hearing the signal, remained on the track. He was struck by the engine, his skull crushed and both his legs broken. He was an eminently popular writer.

SEFCH OF HIS LIFE.

The deceased genileman had been connected with the Chechmati Enquirer for twenty-five years and was a prominent authority, among democratic politicians, on statistics. He was a warm personal ricend and admirer of Hon. G. H. Pendleton, and, although a stead-fast supporter of the democratic party and an expression.

prominent authority, among democratic politicians, on statistics. He was a warm personal friend and admirer of Hon. G. H. Pendleton, and, although a steadfast supporter of the democratic party and an earnest worker in its behalf, he never held office. Two years ago he was a candidate for Congress, but failed of election, owing to the weak support of his partisans. He was litty years of age, born in Dorby, Vt., and leaves a wife and four children.

The Cincinnati Gazetle of January, 1874, published the following notice of him:—"Mr. G. M. D. Hloss, who has had a leading position in the editorial department of the Cincinnati Gazetle of January announcement, who has had a leading position in the editorial department of the Cincinnati Journals makes proper more than an ordinary announcement. Mr. Bloss came here when first starting in life, after having studied law with Judge W. F. Allen, of New Yorg, whose office he left in 1851. He began on the Enquirer in September, 1852, on a three months' campulgu engagement. That paper was then owned by Faran & Robinson. Through mutual liking his engagement was prolonged, and has continued during the various changes in the proprietorship till now, when, although still young, Mr. Bloss has had the longest service as a political writer of any editor now in the West, Mr. Bloss was a quek and forcible writer, a man of great capacity for work, of a wonderful memory for lasts of political history and election statistics, a faithful democratic partisan, with a talent for the brain work of party management, and withal of a genial and kindly nature. He can count among his personal friends most of the leading democratic politicians of Ohio. When Mr. Pendleton made the campaign for the Presidential nomination Mr. Bloss wrote his life. He was Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions of the Ohio Democratic Couvention of last all, which were regarded as a pretty piece of piatform art. Mr. Bloss has nover sought or held office, and in the midst of corrupt party practices has anways kept himse
